Moslem Disturbances in Syrla.

From late advices from Syria it appears that the troubles there are by no means at an end -It is now certain that the Mussulmen are doing all in their power, by every means, to resist the reform initiated by the Sultan, and more especially those which tend to the prejudice of their faith. Europeans are objects of their peculiar hatred .-Insurrections are feared in every city where the Franks have any footbold. At Alexandria the residents live in constant fear of a rising of the Archa and the burning of the city. News of murders in all parts of the country is constantly being received. The cruelties practiced at Jeddah and Jaffa are being repeated in many smaller places. Routes that were formerly considered safe are now considered impassable, and the whole country is now an unsafe residence for Europeans.

The whole power of the Sultan and of the Pasha is exerted to its fullest extent to produce quiet, but only has thus far resulted in turning the rage of the fanatics against the existing goveroment, and in giving rise to a plot for dethroning the Suitan and giving the sceptie to his brother. So well known is this plot that a number of the ambassadors to Constantinople have given out that Europe will not recognize the title of the Sultan's brother in the event of a successful termination of the rebellion.

The Boston Traveller has late advices from Alexandria, which show a horrible state of things | number of lives lest that month, however, was | Words are inadequate to express the heartfelt there. A correspondent of that paper says:

There we beard of the murder There we heard of the murder of many Franks by the faustical Mussulmen; and the report reached us that the Turks bad secreted 5000 muskets at one time, and 20,000 at another in their mosques, to be used in a general rising for the destruction of the Franks and Christian residence of the site. dents of the city.

A letter from Beirut, of a later date, says that the American Consul for that place arrived there about the middle of July with his family, and that the raising of the flag of the Consulate, for the first time in sixteen mouths, was a pleasant sight for the American residents. The trial of the Jeffa criminals was then in progress, and it was regretted that the Dixon family whose numbers were thinned by the Arabathere, had returned to America, as it was feared that some of the miscreants might escape punishment by lack of means for their identification. It will be recollected that the remainder of this family, who belong in Massachusetts, reached Boston but a few days since.

A rumer of disturbances at Mt. Lebanon had Circuit Court, we learn from the Press & Iri reached Beirut, and the Pasha there, who is only bune, was concluded on Tuesday. The Pres & second in dignity to the Grand Vizier, had, upon | Trioune speaks of this case as follows: the representations of the Consuls at that place, dispatched a troop of soldiers to quell the rebellion, as well as to protect the foreigners. A number of missionsries on their way to different parts of Palestine, were at Beirut, awaiting the execution of the Jeffa criminals, fearing that it might cause a general insurrection throughout the country, and preferring to remain under the protection of the guns of the men-of-war collected in the harbor.

The writer of the above mentioned letter. which is dated Aug. 11th, says: "An English man-of-war arrived here yesterday, and a French man-of-war came last week. A Turkish frigate stationed here, sailed for Tripoli a few days since where an outbreak was rumered to have commenced. Next week it is expected that there will be six steamers in the harbor; so if a general rising should take place we can escape. There are also about 40 sail of merchant vessels in the harbor, of all nations except our own. We need an American man-of-war here, and expact one as soon as the exigencies of the public service will permit." From all accounts, the only safety for Franks in that country is under the guns of their nasional frigates. It remains to be seen whether America will be the only nation who refrains from sending a vessel to the waters which bathe plaintiff. the aboves of the Holy Land, when a foreign force is the only power which can prevent the Stockton paper relates the following pitiful acfanstical Moslems from extirpating the whole count of the misfortune that has befallen a whit: race of Franks, Missionaries and all, who are now in Palestine. Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel. The State Fair-The Opening Day.

Madison, Tuesday, Oct. 5, 1858. The heavens emiled brightly, this morning, as the 11:30 A. M. Express Train from Milwaukee, with four well-filled passenger cars, started on its westward journey. The sky was cloudless, the sunshine brilliant, the west wind refreshing, and the passengers, bound for Madison, all acticipating an attractive show at the State Fair. At Waukeshs, Eagle, Polmyra and Whitewater, wehad large accessions to our numbers; and at the "T," just beyond Milton, the Janesville & Chicago train added four more full cars to our toad. Nevertheless our Iron Home drew us along the smooth track at good speed, and at 4 P. M., Madison, glittering in the bright sun light, showed finely on our right. A crowd of omnibuses, carriages and people met us at the depot, and in a very short time all were on the way to the different public and private houses, opened for the reception of visitors. It is already apparent that, with the continuance of fine weather. Madison will see a larger crowd on this occasion, than has ever before gathered within her limits, The promise is excellent for a very successful Fair. The grounds which are admirably located, have been fitted up with equal judgement and good taste; the expenditure for this purpose having been very liberal. The entries are already upprecedentedly large, and they are coming in faster to-night, then at any time yet. The show of Cattle and Horses is especially speken of, by those who have had a look at them, as very superior. In the Horticultural

(Concluded)

It marks indeed a new period in the history of the sountry. All the compacts between freedom and slavery struck by the lathere of this Republic, and the subsequent generation of statesmen, were compromises between a principle and an interest. Endeavoring to reconcile the special institutions of this country to the fundamental ideas upon which this government was built, the fathers of this Republic labored for the gradual abolition of slavery, wherever they could reach it. But unable to exhibit it at once, they made concessions to slavery as to an unfortunately existing fact, without recognizing in it any principlely from which it might derive any pational tight. To them freedom was the ruing, the fundamental, the national principle, and slavery a local institution, which existed only by sufferance, and to which concessions were made for the sake of temporary expediency. This spirit governed the councils of the nation in all cets relating to elavery, and Congress therefore did not be safely the professors of her colleges! The warm soil of North Carolina bears crops of flery anti-slavery professors of her colleges! The warm soil of North Carolina bears crops of flery anti-slavery professors of her colleges! The warm soil of the professors of her colleges! The warm soil of the fundamental principle, and slavery as the network professors of her colleges! The warm soil of North Carolina bears crops of flery anti-slavery professors of her colleges! The warm soil of the professors of her colleges the professors of her (Concluded.) elating to slavery, and Congress therefore did not hesitate to exclude from the national terri-turies what it considered a nuisance. The man-dest tendency was to remove the contradiction virtue of the hatcom law, where it is not acci-ished and probibited by local lagislation. Be-fore Mr. Douglas, popular sovereignty, elavery and freedom stand apparently as equial claim-ants. But, in fact, slavery has acquired the right of precedence over freedom. This is the principle which Douglas has introduced into the policy of this country in place of the leading ideas of the revolution. He may claim the movit of being the first man who succeeded in displacing the political development of this Redisplacing the political development of this Itspublic from the solid basis of the Declaration of Independence. The Nebraska bill, very fir from being a progressive movement, was the boldest atep in the reaction against the principles of the revolution.

Do not say that I am indulging in a more play with abstract ideas and theoretical discriminations, and that things might look better in realitons, and the things might look better in realitons, and the things might look better in realitons, and that things might look better in realitons. [Cheera.]

Such, sir, have been some of the effects of a great anti-slavery admining the mest poly in the proportion in the title only thing which prevents the rotorial confirming the might look demonstate the confirming the might have rearried to the current of a despotic tendency. I feat nothing. The current of a despotic tendency is spirit and from abandoning themselves without better in the current of a despotic tendency. I feat nothing. The question is price and threatent, and the current of a despotic tendency. I feat nothing. The question is price and threatent, and the current of a despotic tendency. I feat nothing. The question is price and infinite prevention of the f

governed the policy of the greatest patricts American history can boast oi. In order to throw off the yoke of the slave power, you have but to hold up your heads as men. (Cheera.)—
If they will call this revolutionary, let them call it so. It is the revolutionary spirit to which this Republic owes its existence. (Applause)

I will not waste your time by demonstrating that the power of Congress to exclude slavery from the national Territories stood, almost shows all doubt and question, from the establishment of this Republic down to the time when Mr. Douglas thought it necessary to invent a great principle of his own. Every schoolboy knows it, and even Mr. Dougles, who is not very timid in denying settled facts, will hardly deny this.

publicate of this Blate barely escaped a total defect. Let every Republican work this year and feat. Let every Republican work this year and a gir.constriumph will be the reward.

The Vote in Tennessee, —The official returns of altering the constitution of that State, show that there were only 24,868 votes cast on the that there were only 24,868 votes cast on the anisonal campaign, the slave-holding States question, of which 20,981 were in the negative.

The Vote in Tennessee, of this policy, which I am advocating. It has cleen been asserted that a great many of the surface would have about the surface old prejudices to a new spirit of enterprise, and repeated trials a new spirit of enterprise, contains a new spirit of enterp fighting the battle of the Union on the soil of will try to found new fortunes on a new order of lilinois, (cheers.) and a victory here in 1858 things. And the non-slaveholding whites, now means half a victory in the federal campaign of a degraded class of beings, will speedily rise to 1860. (Tremendous cheers.) Well, what truth is there in those arguments and threats I was speaking of. Turn over the pages of our history of the ratk of active clitzens, carried forward by a speaking of. Turn over the pages of our history or will linger a long time in the cotton and rice growing States. But even there you will see long as the anti-slavery movement in the North was long as our there mobs put down the champions of human freedom—as long as the North was more clarged or against shelling as the fundamental principle of Democratic institutions.

breeze, tuehing to a general assault on the very citade; of the slave aristocracy—the federal Government. What are the affacts now? Ture your faces southward, see and listen! In the very heart of the Slave States the voice of freedom begins to be heard! South Garolina trembles at the detection of Abolitionists among the professors of her colleges! The warm soil of North Carolina bears crops of fiery anti-slavery books! See daring leaders putting themsalvos at the head of the non-sisvebolding whites, and bidding defiance to the oligarchy! See a free-labor colony driving its wedge into the very heart of the Old Dominion! Aye, in spite of the clection feated and ballot-box stuffing, all play of anti-siavery sentiments in the North; and there, right consequent upon it, the first bold effort of the anti-slavery elements in the South! Is this merely accidental? No: The emancipation movement in Missouri, and the free-labor colony in Virginia, are the firstborn children of the Fremont campaign. [Applause.] Courage and energy here will inspire them with boldness and energy there. Had the North act-

spoken, that the contradiction, which lay hidand moral support to the strong encouragement det in the new measure, broke out in a practical coldict. This was not astonishing to me, for it cannot be otherwise, when the construction of ambiguous measures is put into the hands of antigonistic interests. [Cheers.]
Look at the Constitution of the United Statos.

Its words are the same for Mr. Goritt Smith, of Already the names of nearly eighty with second Editors and Publishers are enrolled on the register, and by com te-morrow, it is supposed that there will be full one hundred in attendance. The Convention moete at 1 o'clock A. M. to-morrow, and a pleasant gathering is an incipated on all hands. Our Madison brothern have made most liberal provision for the comfort and entertainment of their guests.

The Republican State Convention assembled at 2 P. M., and after a two hours' session adjourned till 7 P. M., to await the atrival of the fairmout trains. On te-assembling in the evening, there was a full attendance from all parts of the State, and the prospect of a brief, bory, hormonious session.

Protestor Ranar, the famous Horse Tamer and Teacher, is here, and commences his Lectures and erterious estimations and the religious provision for the commences in plenty; two Theatres in full blust, and various side-shows. nothing that will disarm them but the evident impossibility of their gratification. When alave-holders see their aristocratic pretensions put down by firm mojerities, and when they can no longer escape the conviction, that their aspirations to rule the country as slaveholders meets with universal contempt, they will be no more apt to listen to the voice of reason, which, at the same time, is the voice of their true interest. After the blinding influence of those ruling passions has been paralyzed by irrevocable events, then, and not till then, will the true moral and economical merits of slavery be fairly investigated and thoroughly underst od in the slaveholding States. Discovering that they are an isolated anomally in the wide world, the slaveholders ted anomally in the wide world, the slaveholders mc say, by the way, that I do not deem it out of place here to speak of the emergency of a national campaign; for, in my opinion, we are about the first time in the still of the Union on the soil of will try to found new fortunes on a new order of illinois, (cheers,) and a victory here in 1888; things 1 and the world have fortunes on a new order of the fundamental principle of Democratic institu-tions. (Applause) And at last that thick fog of prejudice will pass away, which heretofore has welfed from their eyes the sun of true Dem-ocracy. They will, as if zwakening from a dark dream, admire with astonishment the life-spread.

ing warmth of its beams and the glorious purity of its light. (Great oberrs.) And at the same time, when slavery ceases to be a power, it will cease to exercise its demoralizing influence upon our national policy. ifest tendency was to remove the contradiction between the fundamental principles of our government and a social institution, by sacrificing the latter. [Obera]

Even the Microuri Compromise, so far as it excluded rivery from certain tornitories, was dictated by this spirit.

The Nebrseka bill, in opening the national territories to slavery, elevated slavery from the rank of a national principle. This state of things will, according to my prefound conviction, be the consequence of a connot endanger the safety of the Enion, but it will not endanger the salety of the Enish, but it will berpetuate it by strengthening its true founda-tions. (Applause.)

I love this Union, and no man can be more opposed to its dissolution; not as though the free North could not do without its benkrupt partner, but because I think think that the nection of the slave States with the free North i

has been instituted. [Obeers,] It is not without a profound meaning that the several States of this Union are represented by stars on the national binner. As in our sole system on high the great central sun keeps the planets in their several orbits in sublime and eternal order, so in the solar system of our Unithe stars of the Stares more around a central sun of pure light and irresistable attraction.— That central sun is true Democratic Liberty, As long as that stands firm and unshaker, its whole sphere will move in serons giory. But take that away, annibilate that great centre of attraction, and where hitherto has been the sublime order of a planetary system, there checite confusion will reign supreme, and the fondest hopes of the world will perial in destructive concussions.—

Republican State Convention. Marieon, Oct. 5th, 1858.) 2 o'clock P. M. The Convention was called to order by Hon. H. A. Tenney, Chairman pro tem, of the Republican State Central Committee, who nominated Hon. Jac. S. Sutherland of Rock, as Chairman that prayellad pro tem; which prevailed.

Jas. W. Shong was chosen Secretary pro Mr. Sutherland, on taking the chair, thanked the Convention for the honor conferred upon him, and requested the Shoretary to read the call dentials.

Mr. Abbott, of Dane, concurred and said that there was no such herry as demanded that we should go on and complete our organization, and transact businees, while a large number of delegates were yet absent. In most cases the delegates would arrive by five o'clock; and in some instances, where districts were now represented by substitutes, the regular delegates would be here at that time.

Mr. Booth, of Milwankee, warmly opposed the adjournment—thought the gentleman from Dane took an extraordinary interest in this mather than the substitutes and proposed the substitutes and proposed the substitutes, the regular delegates would be here at that time.

Mr. Booth, of Milwaukee, warmly opposed the adjournment—thought the gentleman from Dane took an extraordinery interest in this matter, and that there might be a cat under the meal somewhere. The call had been before the public for months, and he thought the delegates who were here promptly, ought not to be obliged to wait for those who took so little interest in this convention, as not to come here in time. this convention, as not to come here in time.

Mr. Bacon said he had desired to contribute te the harmony of the Convention, and there was no cat under the meal so far as he was Some further discussion occurred. Mr. Booth

Mr. Schurz said that he should be compalled to decline, on account of physical incompetency. He had a bad cold and a sore throat; he would like to hear from Mr. Crane.

Mr. Orane declined to speak. Mr. Hooth was called upon. He said he thought ellence better than speech here, and recommended a holy Quaker calm as most likely to conduce to harmony.

Mr. Daniels—I move to reconsider the vots by which that resolution was voted down.

The motion to reconsider prevailed.

Mr. Bacon—I have no objection to this resolution it it is postponed till after the arrival of the afternoon trains.

Mr. Frishy's motion was then tabled, on metion of Mr. Aldrich.

Considerable discussion occurred on a motion of Mr. L. F. Frishy to admit Mr. S. M. Booth, as one of the delegates from Milwaukeen Mr. Booth was elected as the substitute of Alexander Mitch-was elected as the substitute of Alexander Mitch was elected as the substitute of Alexander Mitch-ell. It was stated that Mr. B. was a candidate for election as delegate, but was beaten by Mr. Mitchell, and that the latter would be here on the five o'clock train. On motion of Mr. Ald-rich, the subject was tabled till five o'clock. The report of the committee on credentials was accepted.

Mr. Krowitou moved that substitutes appointed by this convention act until the regula

The chair thought the report could not now be amended.

Mr. J. R. Brigham said he was in layor of Mr. knowlton smotion. He at no time was opposed to admit Booth as a substitute, but only as a regular delegate. It was the cat under the meal he was afraid of.

Mr. Booth thought this came rather late.

Mr. Wm. Price opposed the motion.

Mr. Knowlton had no doubt Mr. Hooth would yield his seat when Mr. Mitchell arrived.

Mr. Booth—I care nothing about a seat in this convention. I only wish to see with what spirit it proposes to act. I don't think any laurels are to be won in it sayhow.

COMMERCIAL & FINANCIAL

OFFICE OF THE DAILY BENTINEL, | Wednesday Evening, Oct. 6, 1858. MONEY MATIERS.—We have no change to notice in the money market. Currency is still scarce, there being hardly enough money on the market to supply the legnate business demands. The inactivity in the producmarket has greatly decreased the demand, however, and in consequence, is not accommodations are more readily obtained. Exchange continues firm, with a good de-

The market price for No. 1 spring to day was Sbc, and extra do 78a55c, show-log a decline of 2n5c. There were few buyers to be found even at these rates, and, in fact, but few sellers would accede to the decline, neither being anxious to operate to any extent until the markets assume a more set-tled aspect. The New York market, it will be seen, con-tiques dull and heavy, under the influence of the last steamer's news. Flour is still inactive, and but one or two sales were made to-day at yesterday's prices. Rye is dul and rather lower. Barloy is firm, with an upward tendency. Corn and Oats continue dull and unchanged, the former lower, if anything. There is quite a brisk shipping demand for cranberries, and all that arrive are quickly taken. The wholesale price is about $3 per bus,

BOOK FOR THE TIMES! THE EXILES OF FLORIDA!

BY JOSHUA R. GIDDINGS, ILLUSTRATED WITH SIX PINE THE RAVINGS. Cne Vol., 12mo ; 840 pp. Price $1.

THES WORK postrays, with eminent ability, the crimes committed by our flower-ment against the Marcons who flud from Stuth Darolina and other Slave Slates, seeking protection under Spanish law. It shows the bad faith exercised toward the Indians of Fordia, and is found to present a time view of the long-fought FLORIDA WAR, which was, in truth. A WAR OF SLAVERY. Prov. O. J. Wood—Deav Sir: Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thicking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its originacelor; but to her, as well as my sarprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray ha y back to brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change in their hair.
